H. R. JACORS' THEATRE.

The hero had a very hard time of it at H.
R. Jacobs' Theatre last night, and he only reached happiness after a sensational rescue from a sewer. Or course, as the leading spirit in "The Struggle of Life," a very luria meiodrama, he could scarcely have expected a very joytal time. There was plenty of applause for the pisy, which was beautifully staged. The scene representing St. Patrick's Cathedral on Fifth avenue was quite noteworthy.

WINDSOR THEATRE.

As has been hinted by the Philadelphia As has been hinted by the Philadelphia Or a Great City' was acted at the Windsor Theatre last night in the presence of a large and demonstrative andience. The play deals with the tribujations of those whose lot is cast on the seamy side of metropolitan life, and it is picturesque enough in its way. Lizzle Derious Daly, tresh from the vaudeville stage, was the principal attraction in the cast. A couple of movers contributed a sparring contest. PROPLE'S THEATRE.

At the People's Theatre last night the attraction was a sensational comedy drams called "The Black Detective," irom the pen of the gentleman who wrote "Across the Continent." In play contained a number of effe. tive situations and many of the characters without which meiodrams would be an impossibility. It was acted by Wash T. Meitheld, Lizzie Scanlop, litein Creswick, Ada Moshel and Stephen Malley. The Southern Quartet aid good work. It is said to be a version of an old story called "Smoke."

Ambend Theatre.

When the irreverent serpent had been so indiscreet as to make an attack upon his fundamental of the last century.

The farce, "Ber Kunst Bacillus," from the pen of Rudolf Kneisel, was acted at Amberg's Theatre has hight and it called forth a goodly amount of laughter. The farce was admirably acted by the excellent company that has as its leading actor Emil Thomas. Mr. Thomas played the part of a retired theatre barber, and was very fundy. Margarethe Sallers was also very amusing.

KOSTER AND BIAL'S.

Mesars. Koster and Bial made a new departure at their concert hall last night by press ning Offenbach's opera-bouffe, "Blue Beard," in addition to the usual vandeville performance. Free Solomon appeared in the ittle role, and there was a very good chorus. The opers was well received and the new plan will undoubtedly become popular. The vandeville performance included Vanoni, the Berats, borothy Denning, Katherine B. Howe and Amann.

TONY FASTOK'S.

TONY PASTOR'S.

A right royal welcome was accorded to Tony Pastor last night, when he appeared with his own company at his theatre in East Fourteenth street. Tony was as spirited, as vivacious and as magnetic as ever. Marguerite Cline was there with all her voice and all ner sweet, gentle ways. Bessie Bonehill, seeley and West, fixie Daly, Birdie Brighting, the Glenroy brothers, Ward and Yokes, the Detroit brothers, the Nawns and George E. Austin completed the programme. TONY PARTON'S.

There is no doubt about the success of the new imperial. It is a lounging place, and people seem to want it. The attendance last night was very large, and the entertainment was a good one. Among those who appeared were the Julians, Theo, Bernard Byllyn, Pitrot, Mile. Ancion, Flourette, who is very clever; Charles V.
